DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 13 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

- Regarding to claims 13 and 22, “the receiving device through layer-2” is opposite to the independent claims 12 and 21.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-9, 11-12, 14-19, & 23-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Britton et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6657974 B1).

- With respect to claims 1, 12, & 21, Britton teaches a system and method for enabling layer-3 communication within a sub-network for those members of the sub-network without layer-2 communication (e.g. the IP system not ATM), the system comprising:

a sending device, a receiving device, a forwarding agent, a first network device (Fig. 1) comprising a media access control address of a forwarding agent, the first network device interprets an address resolution protocol request from the sending device, and sends an address resolution protocol reply comprising the media access control address of the forwarding agent to the sending device (col. 1, lines 17-25).

- With respect to claims 2-3, 16, & 25, Britton discloses wherein the first network device comprises a proxy-proxy address resolution protocol function adapted to interpret the address resolution protocol request (col. 2, line 16)

- With respect to claim 4, Britton teaches wherein the receiving device comprises a network device comprising an Internet protocol address and a media access control address (col. 1, lines 14-35).

- With respect to claims 5, 15, & 24, Britton discloses wherein the receiving device comprises a computer (blocks WS in Fig. 1).

- With respect to claims 6, 8, 14, 18, 23 & 27, Britton teaches wherein the first network device comprises a network device adapted to communicate through a plurality of network communication layers including layer-3 (e.g. IP network).

- With respect to claims 7, 17, & 26, Britton discloses wherein the first network device comprises a switch (e.g. host in Fig. 1).

- With respect to claims 9, 19, & 28, Britton discloses wherein the forwarding agent comprises a router (e.g. adapter in Fig. 1).

- With respect to claim 11, Britton discloses wherein the first network device comprises a processor for processing the data-packets (the host in Fig. 1), a memory for storing program data-structures associated with the processor, a plurality of storage structures interactive with the processor, and a proxy-proxy address resolution protocol function within the memory and interactive with the processor (claim 3).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 10, 20, & 29 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Britton et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6657974 B1) in view of Datta et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6295276 B1).

- With respect to claims 10, 20, & 29, Britton discloses all the aspect of the claimed invention as set forth above but fails to teach wherein the forwarding agent comprises a firewall. Datta teaches the firewall (col. 1, line 63) for protecting the network. Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to utilize the firewall of Datta into Britton for protecting the network.
